THE BEGINNING . . .

The foundations have been set for each student to grow as an individual. In the beginning of our life at Northland, we are like buds waiting to develop into the person we each would like to become. School shapes these dreams by forming outlines, guidelines and deadlines, which we all must meet or fail. Along with education, we find excitement and enjoyment at Northland.

Carolyn Goff and her friend find a quiet place to share lunch.

Jeff Yee explains the situation to teammates on the field.

The number one parking space at Northland belongs to the number one man.

TIME . . .

While some days seem as long as a year, special moments pass very quickly. To each of us there is a special memory to associate with each part of the school. The classrooms, the study halls, the lunchroom, the gym, the stadium, and the principal's office all bring special memories to mind. These are the sentiments that will be held close to our hearts as we watch the times of our lives pass by.

Bob Dean makes a fast exit . . . with a smile.

This drummer shows that the band plays a big part of many assemblies.

STUDENTS BRANCH INTO MANY AREAS

STUDENTS HAVE INTERESTS

Most are unaware of the deep-rooted feelings they really have toward Northland. Students have interests in many things, such as the school and the community. They are interested in the new building, the new library, the new Northland. They are interested in the future.

DREAMS . . .

Along with a new look comes a new way of thinking. The end of the 20th century is a time when we must take a step toward a new era of peace, prosperity, good luck, good health, and good living.

STAFF MEMBERS SET GOOD EXAMPLES

The Northland faculty has always exhibited teamwork and spirit in their activities. A good example was this year's school levies. Members of the staff pounded the pavement working hard to make the levy pass. The renewal did pass but the additional did not. However, statistics showed the majority of Northland area voters backed both levies.

Sags Auf Deutsch In Northland...

Language Clubs offer students a... exciting and bright new worlds. Through discussion, projects, and just for fun activities the clubs provide new learning experiences for each individual.

The French Club enjoyed French Christmas Caroling, A French Movie L'Argent de Poche, and planning the French In The Know. Northland's Dean Allemange was high scorer for the contest between eight central Ohio Schools.

The German Club has an annual dinner at the end of the year and sponsors many bake sales.

The Russian Club was involved in a retreat at Camp Ohio where they spoke only Russian, a trip to a Russian restaurant, and Slavic Day at OSU.

The Spanish Club held bowling and pizza parties often. They sponsored Kinder Key Caroling and took a trip to Talita's, a Spanish restaurant.

All in all, Northland has very well rounded language programs.

NORTHLAND SMOKES CENTRAL 160-20

The In The Know Team spent many long, hard hours practicing and solving sample questions. The severe weather conditions forced team members to practice on their own time.

Their match against Central High School was an overwhelming victory as the practices did pay off. One more televised match is scheduled to be played against Dublin. These superior players and students are an asset to Northland.

LEADERSHIP AND GRADES EARN RECOGNITION

Jeff Yee presents Tern Tackett with her National Honor Society induction notice.

The National Honor Society at Northland inducted 95 new members into the Harold Eibling chapter this year. The students were judged on scholarship, leadership, service and character qualities. They are recommended by teachers but the most important thing is what they do for themselves.

The National Honor Society participated in the Project Feed Canned Food Drive for Christmas and sold Entertainment "777" booklets. The society welcomed its many new members and hoped to encourage them to carry on the standards which have long been lived up to.

The 1976-77 Marching Vikings begin their season during the hot month of August. Stiff competition, judged by director, Mr. Jerry McAtee, was the stipulation for becoming a member of the band. Despite the large number involved, the group is very close knit. Led by "father figure" Tim Brown, the Marching Band is just one big happy family with a lot of love and talent to give. They are the brightest and the best. Northland is proud to be represented by such a fine group.

The thirty girls that make up the Valkyries Drill Team spent a part of their summer at an Ohio State Workshop. There, the team learned new routines and practiced diligently. The last day was spent in competition with schools from all over the state. The team earned a first place award.

The Valkyries practiced early every morning with the marching band producing lively and entertaining football halftime shows. Well rounded routines were enhanced by costumes made especially for the event such as Hawaiian skirts, Clown suits, and Can-can shorties. Led by co-captains Chris Kelner and Mindy Jarrett, the Valkyries danced through football season into basketball halftime shows. Their annual competitions were delayed by the harsh winter weather.

Crispy Thatcher "oboes" away

Northland's instrumental music students are some of the most talented and dedicated people around. They rehearse during class time and are expected to practice on their own time also. Under the fine direction of Mr. Jerry McAtee the orchestra, stage band, and symphonic band perform at many community functions during the year including elementary schools and nursing homes.

Each year during January the Symphonic and Concert Bands begin preparing for the OMEA District Band Contest. The contest was held at Upper Arlington this year. If a band achieves a I (Superior Rating) at contest, they are eligible to continue on to the OMEA State Contest.

The Young Adults lift their voices in song to bring joy to all those at the annual fall concert

There are many emotions before the first song of the concert

Northland's Vocal Music Department led by director Mr Thurman Davis is always more and more creative every year. Their 1976-77 season was very entertaining and rewarding. They continued their salute to the Bicentennial with the Young Adults clothed in red, white, and blue sweaters and skirts or slacks. The Music Department also presented a very religious and dramatic Christmas program with the story of the birth of Jesus Christ in song. It was presented with actors and actresses portraying the characters with the combined choir singing in the background. It was not only touching but also quite elaborate and impressive

An Appropriate Ending to the Bicentennial . . .

The fall play presented at Northland was an original version of Mark Twain's classic "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," adapted by Jeanne Lewis. Directed by Charles Lewis, the story deals with the adventures and misadventures of Tom Sawyer, Huck Finn, and all the other colorful characters that reside in Hannibal, Missouri.

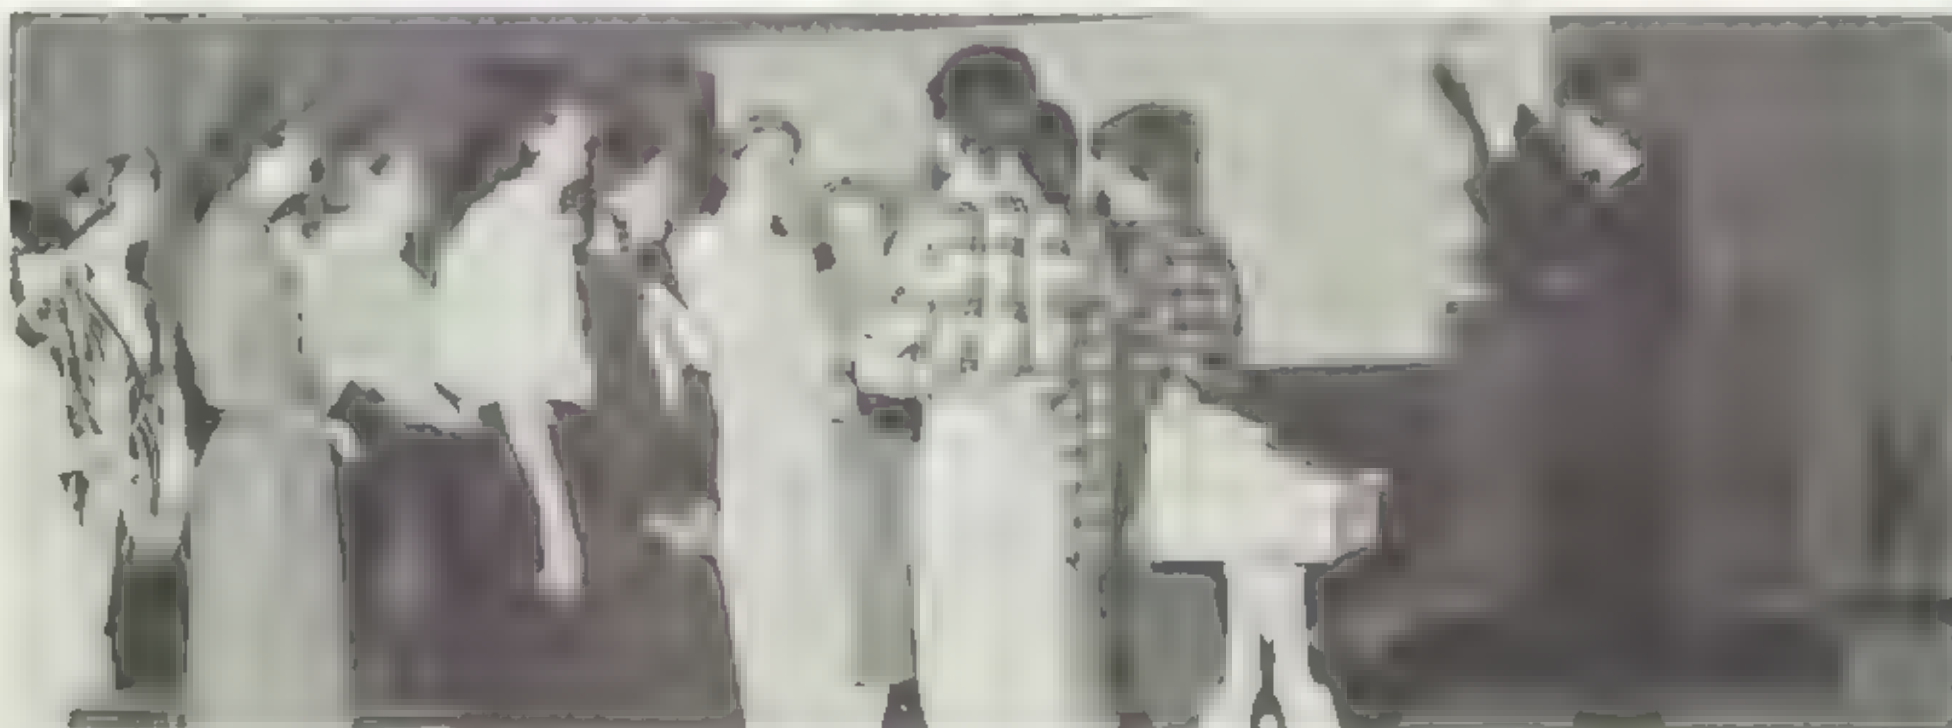

A sense of adventure prevails when the school children discover the cave.

Obviously Sally McClasky loves getting make up put on.

Stage crew members Jeff Mercer and Dave Frisianne work diligently to get the set ready.

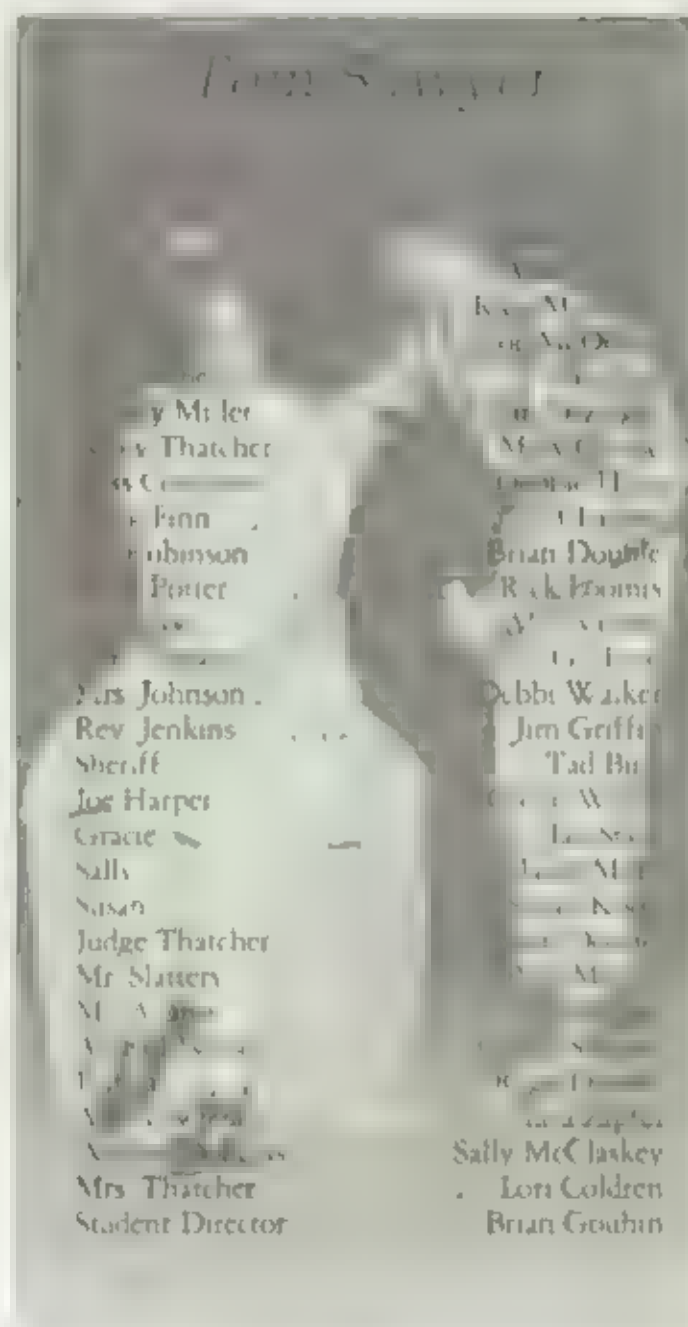

Rev. Jenkins (Jim Griffin) leads the congregation of Hannibal in a song of praise when Huck, Joe, and Tom return.

Tom Sawyer (Jeff Winstel) discovers the only way to get work done is to have gullible friends (Joe McDewitt, Tim Latzinger, Paul Lau)

HONORS ARE BESTOWED IN MANY AREAS

CINDY POSTON

CINDY POSTON

On January 10, 1977 Cindy Poston received the Columbus Rotary "Service Above Self" award. Cindy was nominated for this award by Mrs. Dianne Prehm. Her nomination went before the school advisory board where Cindy was selected to receive the award at Northland High School.

The Service Above Self award is given to a person who has made a significant contribution to the community of Franklin County. To be eligible for this award, a person must be active in community service.

Cindy has done extensive work with students who have special learning problems. She has volunteered with the Virginia-Victoria Project and has helped other students with their psychology and child psychology.

THE MAGIC OF LEARNING

The deaf students at Northland have a special kind of education that is really beautiful. In classes conducted by Mrs. Geraldine Rhymes, the students study their regular subjects with extra additives that make their day exciting and fun.

Each individual student is involved in Northland and in return Northland is proud to have such a fine group of students in the ranks.

NATIONAL COMMENDED SCHOLARS

The National Commended Merit Scholars for Northland were Jerry Bunge, Mike Minutilli, Doug Gardner, and Brad Tilton. These four boys placed in the 95 percentile when they took the PSAT/NMSQT Test in their junior year. This test recognized the students to be in the top two percent of the state which is a real accomplishment. The boys did not place high enough to be considered final

Seeds of Ideas Grow Into Dreams

The Yearbook Staff is a different organization. It requires time, effort, cooperation, knowledge, creativity, and enthusiasm. While each of the staff members may not individually possess these qualities when working together, they blend perfectly into a unified organization. They have deadlines, tight budgets, and a lot of hard work. There are disagreements and arguments, but they all work together. They are a good group of people who are creative and they are proud of their work. They are the little seedlings in the courtyard. It will stand as a monument to the yearbooks past, present and future.

The 1976 edition of the Varsity Viking football team was expected by many to be the best at Northland. Under the guidance of Frank Howe, the Vikings finished with the record of 10-1. There were many highlights of the season. Their use of the "Statue of Liberty," play during the season became famous. The Vikings went undefeated in the City League North. The closing victory over Brookhaven assured them of a berth in the City League Championship game with Walnut Ridge. There was record attendance at the Brookhaven game. The concession stand experienced the biggest sell-out they ever had. They were left with one bag of potato chips, a Reese cup, and a stale box of popcorn. Northland led, by a powerful offensive attack and a defense that came up with the big plays and beat an explosive Walnut Ridge team 20-14.

J.V. Team Holds Tri-City Crown

The 1976 Junior Varsity football team was one of the best teams Northland has ever had. Even though the team consisted mostly of sophomores with little experience, they had an excellent season with a 7-1 record. The most exciting game of their season was with Whetstone, who they had to defeat to share in the City League Title.

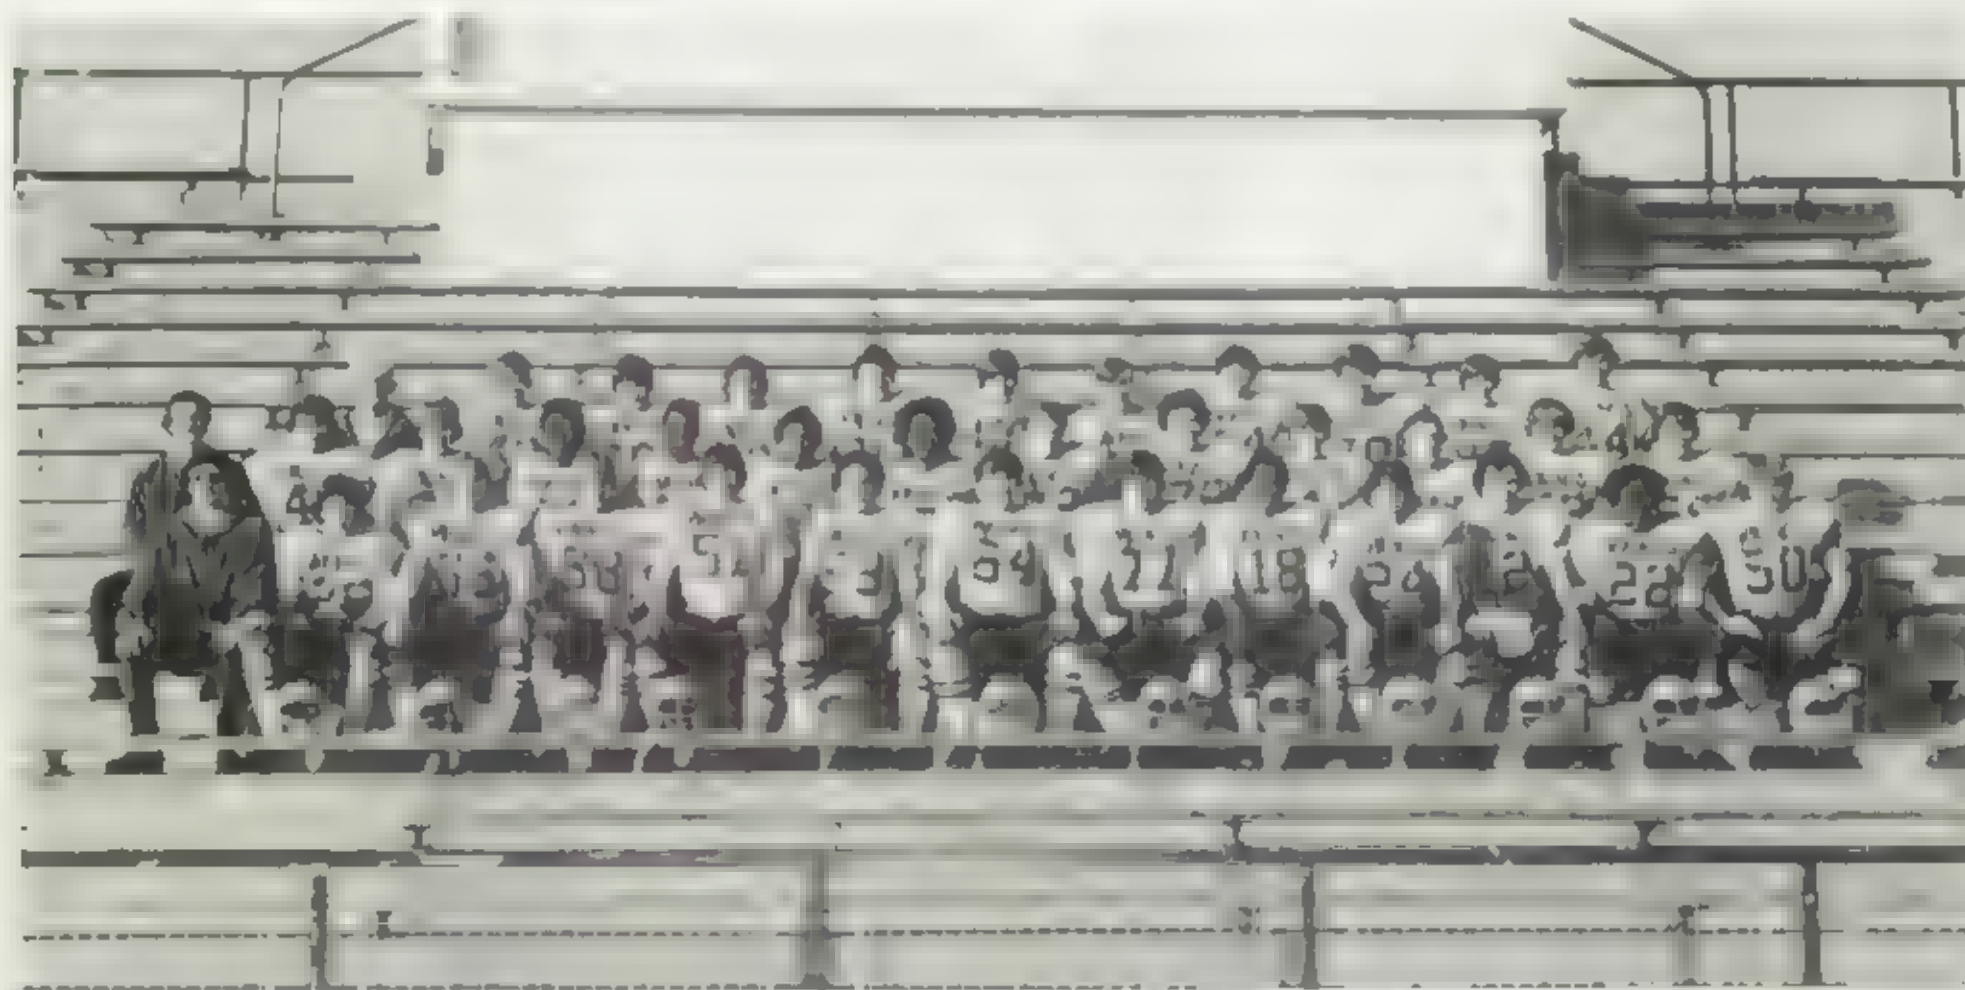

The team is coached by Mr. Decatur, Mr. Laush, and Mr. Dunaway. The boys on the team worked extremely hard and always challenged themselves to do better.

Cross Country Is a Blend of Determination and Strength

The Cross-Country Team is made up of many dedicated individuals who want to improve their skills and compete at a high level. Mr. Kull is the coach, and he urges all of the team members to work and strive for each of their individual goals. There is a lack of spectators during Cross-Country Meets, but this does not dampen the team's spirits. They are a group of hard workers, and as the season shows, it pays off.

Many people were especially drawn to the 1976 Cross-Country Team because of a novelty teammate Pam Oberling, a senior involved with the girl's track team, went out for the Cross-Country Team to improve her skills. She worked on her time as a "runner" by participating in races.

Jeff Kneice is also a very promising figure on the Cross Country team with his many honors and recognitions.

Girls' Tennis Team Attends State Tournament

The Girls' Tennis Team, led by Coach Janet Wise and Captain Patti Sprouse, had a wonderful season this year. Beginning three weeks before school, the team organized their own tournament for the City League Title. They lost this title when they were defeated by two schools, Westside and, Wadsworth, after their regular season play. The Varsity Team consisted of Karen Cook, first seed, Mary Orr, second seed, Patti Sprouse, third seed, Debbie Lowe and Jane Springer. First Junior and Junior Weyman, and Diane Leinen, second seed. Some of the highlights of the season were the wins over the Westside girls in decorated play. Mary Orr's match team won at Westside. Patti Sprouse's three hour match against Centennial at Patti and Diane who should have been called Shaker and Baker. After City League play ended the team continued practicing for the State Tournament. This tournament was an all day event and the girls enjoyed themselves as well as experiencing the real competition. Senior Karen Cook was defeated in her season this year. The whole team had high hopes for Karen at the State Tournament and she lived up to every one. Karen finished seventh in the state.

Northland's Basketball Team finished the season by losing to South High School at the Triple A Tournament at Central University. The 1976-1977 season for the dribbling Vikings was filled with disappointments and defeats. Their games ended with many overtime games which the team tried diligently to win in vain. # PDQ MEANS PRIDE, DESIRE, AND QUICKNESS

The Varsity wrestlers lived up to their motto, Pride, Desire, and Quickness this year by having another excellent season. This season will stand out as one of Northland's best. The Viking wrestlers had a fine tournament record including a tremendous victory at Gahanna. In this victory, they placed all thirteen wrestlers in the top four including three champions.

The wrestlers worked very hard this season to achieve the goals that they set for themselves. Many of these goals were accomplished. AND ALL THOSE ASSOCIATED WITH THE team should be proud.

Ed Cooper holds his opponent for a pin.

Wrestling is good from any angle.

The Junior Varsity Wrestling team was just as successful as the Varsity team in winning its City League Crown. The JV's scored 85.5 points, beating Wheaton for 78 points. They took five first place trophies and finished ninth overall.

The JV wrestlers set a new record for the team. They also won a state championship in the 110-pound weight class.

The Varsity team looks forward to the annual strength of the Junior Varsity Reserve team's text.

NORTHLAND PINS CITY LEAGUE CROWN

Northland hosted the City League Tournament, which was held during the School without Schools program. This made it very hard in preparing for the meet, but the Varsity Vikings proved their skill by winning the City League Championship.

The victory was the most overwhelming in City League history. Northland racked up 235 points, while its nearest competitor, Whetstone, managed only 139 points. Overall, Northland had seven individual champions.

Coach Devo, Coach Smith, their staff, and the wrestlers should be proud of their accomplishments.

Dave Lowe quickly puts his opponent in a double arm bar.

UNDERCLASSMEN CONCENT

The sophomore class is just beginning their high school life at Northland. They learn to look up to the upperclassmen for guidance and explanations of traditions. While as a sophomore, one might feel a bit stifled, in actuality it is a learning and storage period for abilities and knowledge. At Northland the sophomore class can hardly be overlooked. The sophomores have produced a championship junior-varsity football team, a talented sophomore choir, and an excellent squad of reserve cheerleaders among other things.

Everyone can realize the transition from a big-shot freshman at a junior high to the youngest student at a senior high is difficult. The large student number at Northland increases this feeling of being lost. However, the sophomores are an important part of the school and most upperclassmen will agree that they are kind of fun to have around. Here's looking toward two more years.

This year's junior class is the biggest in the history of Northland High School. The 684 students come from all over Columbus. The biggest majority come from Westerville due to the annexation of 1975 which rezoned the school districts. Other students come to Northland on the Columbus Plan to take a wider variety of courses.

The junior class has many prospects to look forward to. Their strength in numbers will assure them good academic and athletic choice. However, with the current financial difficulties their future seems in suspense. The dilemma of the school system plagues juniors with worries of proper course selection, summer make-up time, and deletion of many extracurricular programs. At this time, no one really knows what September will bring.

The juniors are in a limbo not being either the youngest or the oldest. Though they are enjoying their middle year they anticipate their senior year with high hopes. Northland is looking forward to seeing many accomplishments from this large class.

A SENIOR'S LAST YEAR

Senior year is a very special year. It is the start on the road to tomorrow. A senior begins to realize all the things that were once just dreams are now goals to believe in and work toward. Being a senior is a very special feeling. It's knowing that you are on top and also knowing that it won't all be over.

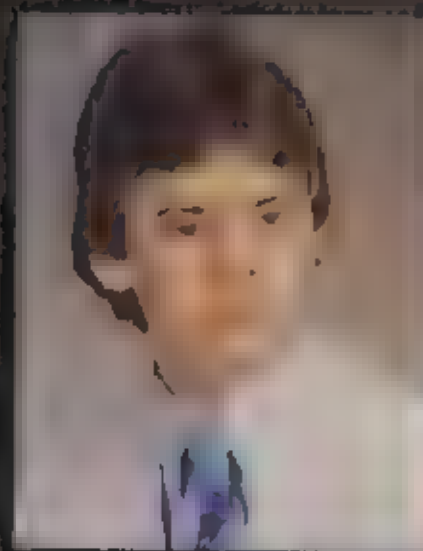

It is in your hands. You now must grasp and hold onto all the moments you have. Moments that will be cherished and stored for future use. A senior is a part of the past of forever and it is up to them to become the best of it.

Homecoming 1977 was a great success. The football game was on Friday, October 14th, and the visiting opponent was the Linden Park High School. The 1977 team overcame the Panthers and Jamie Schick was crowned as the 1977 queen. The homecoming dance was held on Saturday, October 15th. The theme was South Pacific and the decorations reflected it. There were many flowers and even a pond with goldfish. The evening was highlighted by the crowning of the 1977 queen, Jamie Schick, by the 1976 queen Denise Senta.

The new homecoming queen, Jamie Schick, and her escorts.

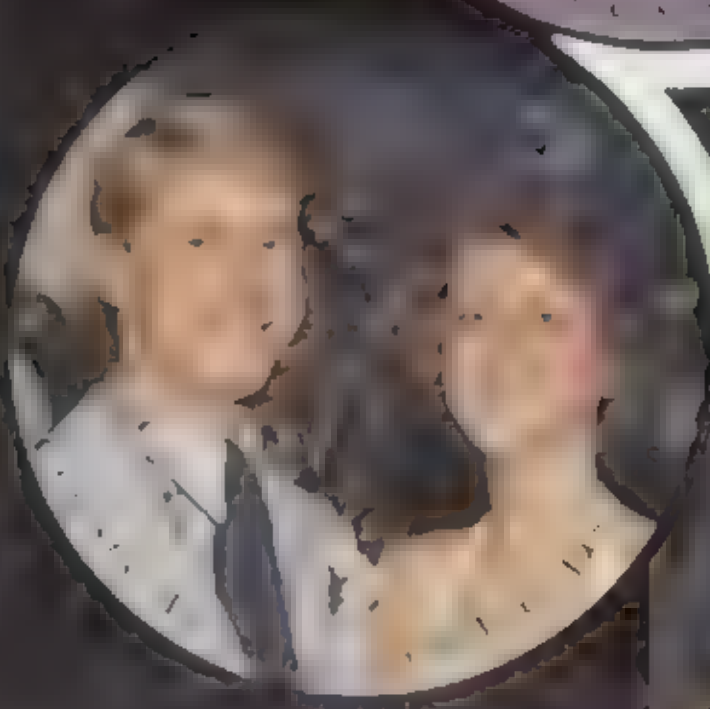

Jamie is congratulated by former queen, Denise Senta.

At the dance, the Court had their picture taken along with their friends.

Seniors Begin Journey With Election of Officers

Yes, age is a factor in voters here, too for vice president

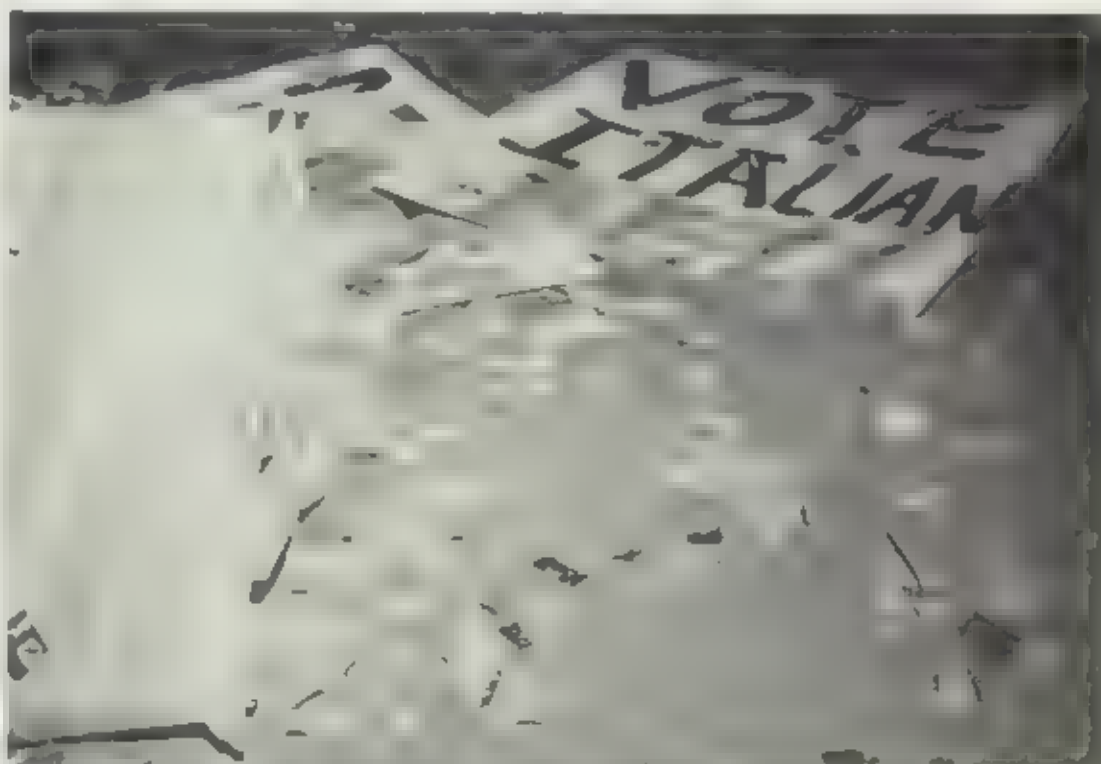

The five senior class officers are responsible for the senior activities that all the seniors enjoy. Along with the five elected candidates, the ten formed the Senior Executive Committee, which plans, arranges and makes the senior year go smoothly. They meet with Mr. Zaaver at least once a week and discuss problems and ideas. These officers will be instrumental in the planning of class reunions in the years to come.

Dedication and Effort

Steve Vlasich attaches up on an assignment in the library.

The Marching Vikings show their talent at their own special concert.

A basketball player exerts his grasp.

The students work up a storm during the lesson.

Individuals Make Northland Special

Brian, Debbie, Kelly, Taylor and Tom Tackett represent Northland at the Moynihan's Breakfast.

Debbie Williams gives a thumbs up to the make-up artist who created the character of Tom Sawyer.

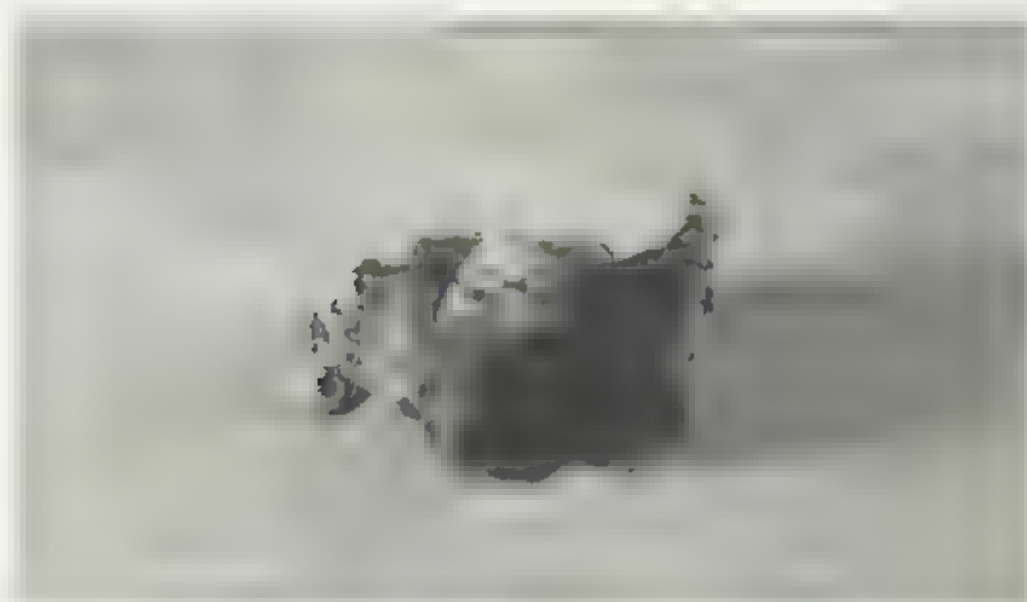

The basketball team had their first game against the quarter.

Curt Nease is a member of the basketball team.

SCHOOL WITHOUT SCHOOLS

John Tomicki carries a week's worth of work due on the next Tuesday

Mr. Smith and Mr. Arroyo discuss plans for the next television broadcast on WBNS-TV

View through a camera eye

Quick grab of a school bag before a long separation

The school is only ours for a day

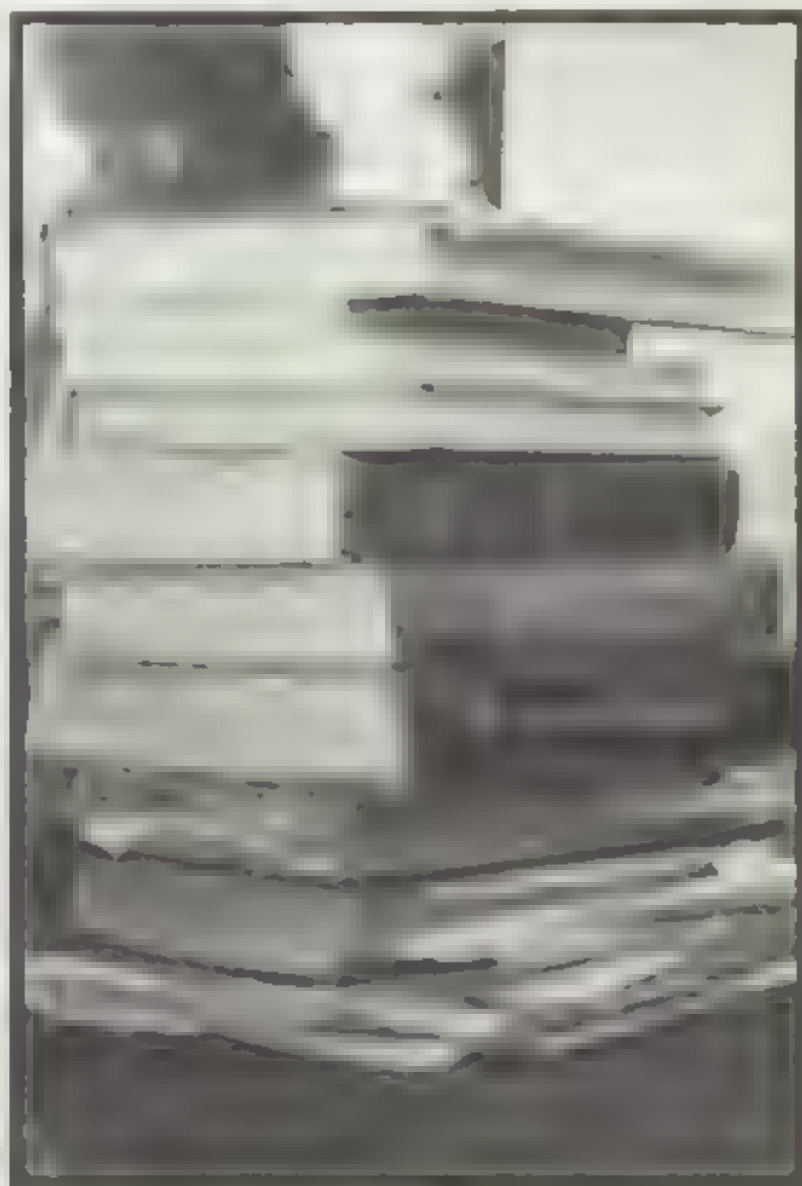

The only place in the nation where a school superintendent could play "Metric Man" on a television segment

The winter of 1977 will not be forgotten for quite some time. Record breaking low temperatures and the natural gas shortage forced everyone into an immediate crisis situation. Businesses were closed. Thermostats had to be lowered. And finally the word came that schools would have to be closed.

On February 7, Columbus Public Schools became the only school in the nation to introduce an emergency plan for the crisis situation. The plan was called "School Without Schools" and operated for an entire month. Northland students reported to the building on Tuesdays of each week and spent the other days working on long term assignments. WBNS-TV sponsored a daily television schedule for general facts in all subjects. The Columbus Dispatch printed a new section in the paper called Classroom Extra. On March 7, regular classes resumed and there was School with Schools once more.

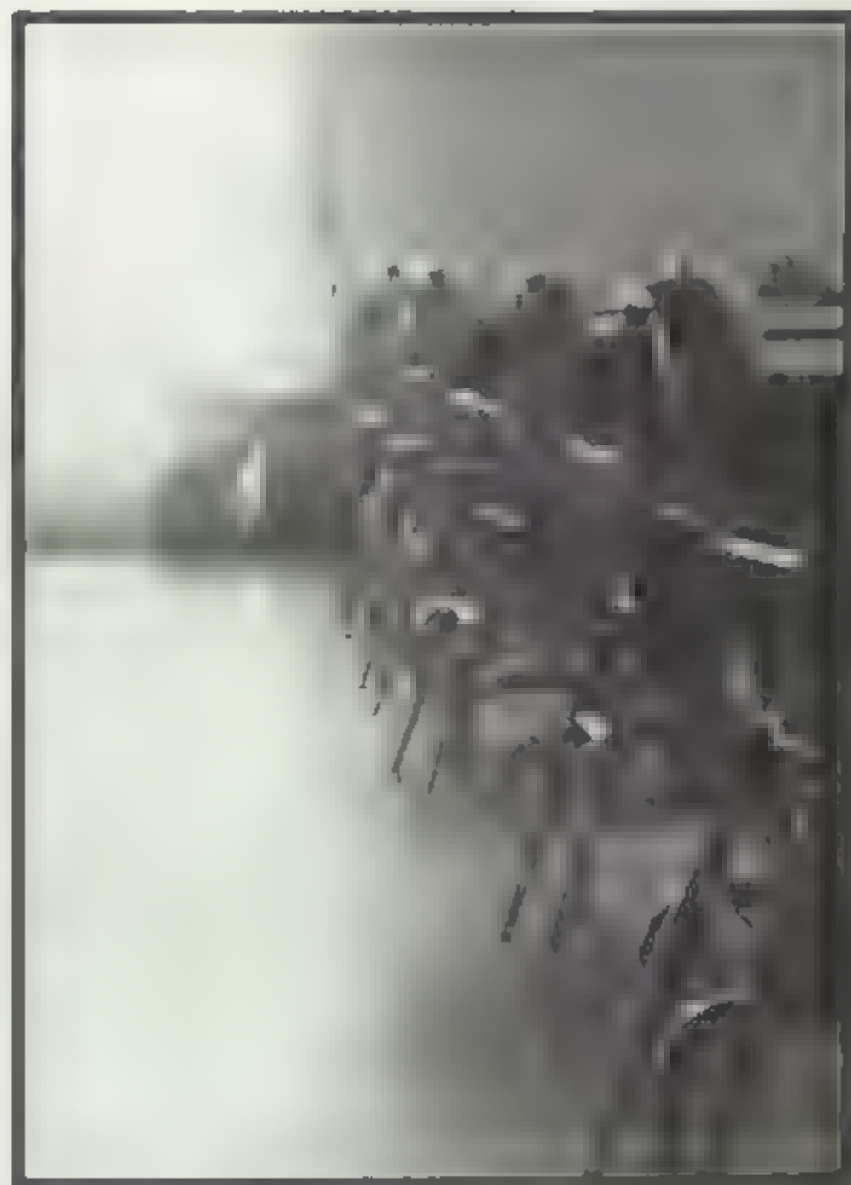

Arrangements had to be made for others using our school

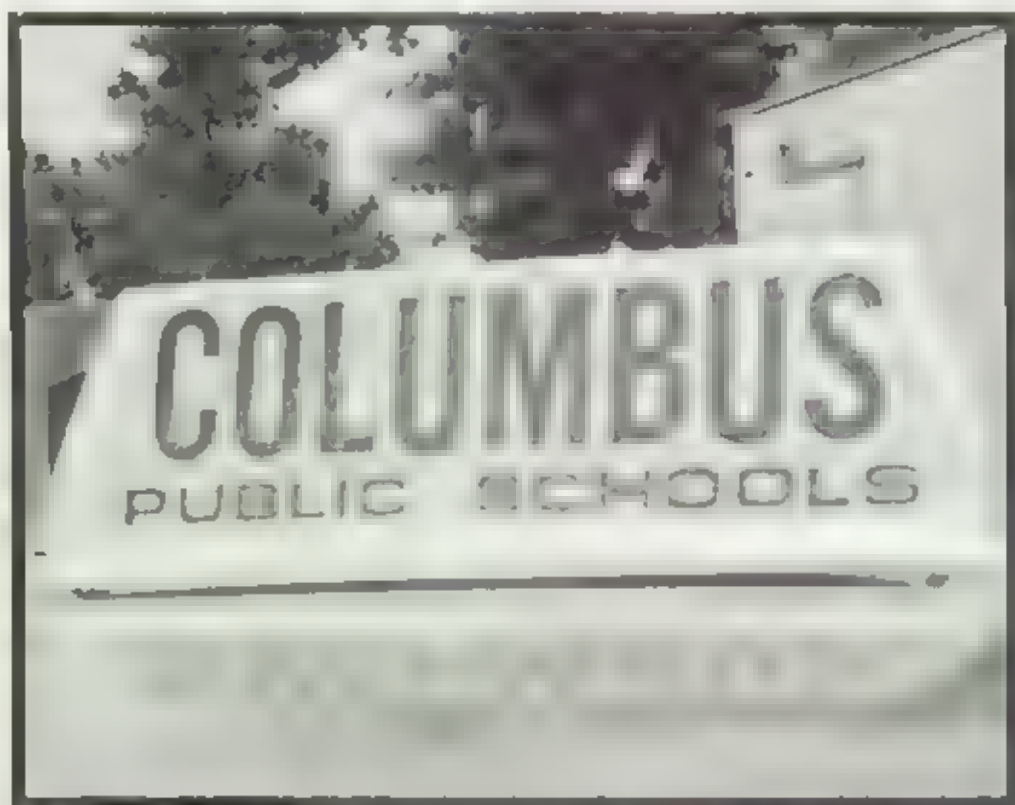

Did you really expect me to carry all these home?"

How often do you see NOBODY?

Is there a way to know what's going on?

Remember the days when you were a kid?

Tell me why

FINANCIAL CUTBACKS WILL HAVE EFFECTS ON NORTHLAND

The vote that decides the future of thousands

The specters of uncertainty run rampant

Where will we go?

The elections of 1976 gave us Jimmy Carter as a new President nationally, but locally a certain school levy did not pass for the Columbus Public Schools. What exactly this will mean in the future is hard to foresee. One can only speculate that the harsh cutbacks forced upon the schools by lack of finances will hurt the students in some way. The news media has shown us the example of the GrovePort Madison crisis and it is up to the voters to approve or disapprove additional funds the schools need. The schools do need . . . Today's students are the most important investments a person can make for they are insurance into a better and brighter future. The question on the tip of every student's tongue seems to be "Where do I go from here?" That is indeed a fair question but no one seems to have an answer.

Academics is the key to success

Socializing is the best part of the day

THE VIKING TREE

There is a living monument of all the spirit and the strength that is Northland High School. It is a beautiful and nearly magical collection of memories. The tree began before Northland was ever born, but it has seen changes in students, styles, and scenes over the years. It stands overlooking every football game and track event that the stadium holds. It has seen the Vikings shine in their most glorious moments and has bowed its branches to mourn for their hardest felt defeats. Each graduating class has been observed by the mighty green oak as it remains in the same old place.

Somehow the tree has become the symbol of our fondest thoughts and memories toward the school. When one has been away for a year or quite a few, he might return to the Viking Tree. Through the breeze blowing the limbs of the tree, a refrain of the Alma Mater might be heard. With a fleeting glance a student can see all that Northland meant and what it will always be. Each branch is made well rounded by the academic, athletic and social achievements of each person who passes by the way. When you need a stable monument to believe in, you will know the Viking Tree will always be there . . . Forever.

A black and white photograph of a person with curly hair, wearing a dark shirt and light-colored pants, standing with arms raised in a celebratory pose. The person is smiling and looking towards the camera. The background is a plain, light-colored wall. The person is standing on a dark surface, possibly a stage or a platform. The overall mood is joyful and triumphant.

A YEAR OF DEADLINES, MEMORIES, AND FRIENDSHIPS

Remember planting Li'l Vike?

Just a little corny now and then

Here's to the Seniors "Leaving"

This yearbook is the combination of many creative minds and talents. I would like to take this last moment of yearbook time to thank the people who helped make the book the success it is. Special thanks go to Bob, Greg, and Wes Mirick for all the fine professional help they gave us. Special, special thanks to Drew Moffat for the marvelous Scoreboard artwork, to Sher Richardson for her lovely artwork for the divider pages and to Lori Andrews for the cover design. Without these special and lovely people the book would not have been the same

This page is my last duty as Editor of the Valhalla. I have enjoyed every moment working with the book and the staff. The year has been filled with problems, arguments, anger and frustrations but shining through in the background was the knowledge that the book would soon be here. In looking over the year I can only say how lovely it all looks to me in retrospect.

Far above any connotation the words "thank you" might bring to mind is a wonderful lady named CeCe Wing. She was sweet, loving and sometimes crazy, but the part of herself she put into this book will never be equaled. She is the best and brightest there is and we have all come to love her dearly. Especially me

To Gail, who I leave this position to, I might say these words, "On that late night before a deadline when you run out of left sides to the quad-pack remember how to laugh and laugh and laugh

Love, Patti Sprouse

Pride of ownership

Our Office

And we'll never forget CeCe

Dear Anne,
Good luck
in every thing you do. I wish always after you.
